Very Unbecoming.

Lovely titles in the wrong place are left of their claims. A lemon colored countenance - the peculiar endowment of our pig-tailed brethren who "hit the pipe" - is unbecoming. It suggests bile going astray, and the inference is correct. Pain beneath the ribs and shoulder blades, constipation, dyspepsia, furred tongue and sick headaches supplement this indication of the bilious. For liver complaint and its multitudinous symptoms, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an infallible specific. It relaxes the bowels sufficiently, but without griping or violence. To the secretion of bile it gives a due impulse, but it does not excite the liver. It purifies the blood, and fur upon the tongue disappears when it is used. It renews digestion, fortifies the system against malaria, counteracts a rheumatic tendency, and remedies inaction of the kidneys.

BOULANGER'S PLANS.

More of the Cronin Case Conspiracy.

The North German "Gazette" on Samoan Affairs—Villard Wins.

Villard Carries His Point.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Northern Pacific preferred stockholders held a meeting to-day. Chairman Harris presided. The only other Directors present were Henry Villard, C. L. Colby and Brayton Ives. A large number of Wall-street men and holders of stock were present. The only business before the meeting was the voting on what is known as Villard's plan, which authorizes the issue of $100,000,000 worth of new 5 per cent. bonds, payable 100 years hence. The voting on the plan began at 10:30, and it soon became apparent that the Villard party would win.

Johnston Livingston offered the following resolution, which was adopted, and which is in direct sympathy with the circular issued on September 21, 1889, by Chairman Harris. The resolution was seconded, much to everybody's surprise, by Henry Villard. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That the holders of preferred stock, represented here, suggest to the incoming Board of Directors to take into consideration a distribution of the whole amount due the preferred stockholders as soon as the company should be in a proper position to do so.

Not a negative vote was received.

Just before noon J. B. Williams announced that the financial plan had been carried, but, owing to duplicate proxies having been deposited, he could not announce the exact result. An adjournment was therefore taken until Monday. Henry Villard voted a majority of the stock.

Robert Harris, President of the company for many years, and who last year acted as Chairman of the Board of Directors, was dropped from the directory, and so are Brayton Ives, J. C. Bullitt, Fred Billings and John H. Brookman.

The new Directors are: George Morrison, James Haggin, C. H. Lealand, C. C. Beaman and J. B. Williams.

A slender minority of the stock was voted by Robert Harris in favor of re-electing the old Board.

It is not yet known whether or not Washburn and Moene are parties to the movement.

Sensational Developments Predicted.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Henry L. Stotenberg, Alexander Sullivan's private secretary, who was arrested last night, was taken before the Grand Jury this morning and when he came out he was released. Being interviewed, he said he did not go before the Grand Jury willingly, but declined to state the nature of the evidence given by him. Following him Henry J. McArdle, another clerk of Sullivan's office, was taken before the Grand Jury, and when he came out he said he had revealed nothing because he had nothing to reveal. It is predicted there will be sensational developments this afternoon or evening.

Lawyer Windes, of Windes & Sullivan, a young man named Kelly, Otto Ericsson, a grocery clerk and Jeremiah O'Donnell were also examined by the Grand Jury, which this afternoon turned in twelve indictments, only one of which relates to the Cronin case, which is understood to be against John Graham.

Fifty Passengers Injured.

By Associated Press.
OMAHA, Oct. 16.—The particulars of the wreck that occurred on the Burlington & Missouri at Gibson, a few miles from Omaha, last evening, are now known. About fifty passengers were injured. The two engines were completely demolished, and the chair car and combination car were thrown from the track and reduced to atoms. Train No. 6 (local between Lincoln and Chicago) ran into No. 9. The former was east and the latter west-bound. Both trains are due at Gibson at 5:25 P. M., but last night No. 9 was slightly behind. When the accident occurred the latter had just crossed the spur, and the engine of No. 6 struck the end, hurling both engines and two coaches from the track.

An Idle Speculation.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 17.—Le Temps, in a resume of the financial results of the Exposition, says before its close the number of people who will have visited the great show will reach 26,000,000.

Referring to the proposed world's fair in America in 1892, Le Temps says it is by no means as certain as it seemed a month ago that the Americans will select New York for the location of their exposition, as Chicago is making strenuous efforts to secure it. Commenting on the availability of Chicago as compared with New York, Le Temps says: "We wonder many Chicagoans who crossed the ocean to visit the exposition in the first city of France would have taken the same trouble if the show had been held in Lyons, our second city of importance."

By Cable and Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The North German Gazette says it is not at all unlikely that Germany will refuse to recognize Mataafa as King of Samoa, and that it must be assumed that other powers, parties to the Samoan treaty, have similarly expressed themselves, because at the conference recently held at Berlin, all the representatives agreed that Mataafa should be King.

What's the Matter?

The fact that Miss Tupper, one of the ablest educators among the State University corps, has resigned, her resignation to take effect on January 1, 1890, led the GAZETTE to inquire into the cause. Not because Miss Tupper had not the right to resign if she saw fit, but because it is believed the University would suffer an almost irreparable loss if she should leave the school at this time. The result of the investigation has not been at all satisfactory, but enough has been learned to lead to the conclusion that there is much dissatisfaction among the faculty and that they are not doing as good work as they would if they all pulled together. Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire and it is clearly the duty of the Board of Regents to let the public know, if they know themselves, what it is. If not, it is likewise their duty to investigate the cause and take steps to remedy it if possible. The University is an institution that the State takes great pride in, and while in its infancy much harm can be done that will take years to recover from if the faculty is not what it should be.

Rumor has it that Professor Miller is the next to go, to be closely followed by Professor Jackson, and if such is the case the public ought to know of it. One thing is clear, and that is, that things are not going as they should, and, in justice to the taxpayers, the Regents should investigate and place the blame where it belongs. The State pays enough in salaries to its President and the faculty generally to afford the best possible results, and if it is not getting what it pays for, the sooner it is found out the better. The columns of the GAZETTE are open to any member of the faculty, from the President down, or to any member of the Board of Regents, or anybody else who knows anything about the subject.

Senator Manderson's Pension.

There is not an editor in the land so partial and mean that he would say one disrespectful word of Senator Manderson in connection with his pension if he knew the facts and knew what the man has suffered and is still suffering from his wound. It was probably the most terrible wound that any soldier ever partially recovered from. Men upbraid him for demanding his rights because he is rich, never taking into account that the pension is in itself a certificate of the injuries received, and ignoring the fact that the Senator does not devote the proceeds to his own use. If, says the Salt Lake Tribune, a rich man were to present a just claim at a bank and the bank was to repudiate it on the ground that the man presenting it was rich and did not need the money, all the world would recognize that the bank was hardly a good institution to deal with. But when the claim of a soldier, who suffered everything but death, and through the years has dragged out a physically blasted existence, is presented to the Government of the United States, the land is full of men who are ready to call down sneers at the justice of the claim. The truth is, Senator Manderson is not rich. He has hard work to live in Washington. Then he was in Alaska when Tanner entered his claim and was in no way a party to it, and had not the slightest intimation that anything of the kind was to be done. Now the Secretary of the Interior has rejected the claim because it was not made in legal form. We hope Senator Manderson will not permit the matter to rest, but will make formal application and demand an examination by a board of intensely bitter Democratic surgeons. That course will thoroughly vindicate him and stop the mouths of all but the more shameless of his partisan foes. It is due him that he should do the same thing, inasmuch he drops the matter now, all his life will be pursued by the taunt that his claim for full pension was rejected by a Republican Secretary of the Interior.

MUTILATED MONEY.

How, When and Where the Government Redeems It.

Average Life of a Circulating Bank-Note—Money Transformed Into Trinkets—Advantages of Silver Money—Over Gold Coin.

What becomes of the old, ragged, dirty and worn paper money and the worn, clipped and defaced coins? Greenbacks and paper currency of the various kinds have a certain life, which, being ended, their days of usefulness are considered passed, and they are then withdrawn from circulation by the Treasury Department and fresh and crisp new bills take their place. The average life of a bank-note or Government note is a matter hard to determine, says the St. Louis Republic. This depends entirely upon the hands into which it falls and the number of times it is passed out into circulation. Should it come into the possession of a miser and go into his strong box, its life would be, of course, much longer than if in steady use, but upon an average a note is in circulation only six or seven years. Bills of small denomination, ones, twos, fives and tens, are, of course, worn out more quickly than those of larger amount. A $50 bill would be carefully folded and put into a pocket-book, where a one would be crumpled up and go into the vest pocket, along with the metal coins.

Under the workings of the Treasury Department all sub-treasurers and designated depositories of the United States are required to lay aside all currency that has become worn to any great degree and forward the same to the department in Washington. This is at once sorted as to issue and denomination and a proper return made to the sender. All National Bank notes are separated from the others and when a sufficient amount is collected it is returned to the bank issuing the same and it is left to their discretion whether the bills shall again be put in circulation or not, and if the officials of the bank think the notes too badly worn to again be put about they are returned again to the Treasury Department at Washington and the institution is given credit for the amount.

All money of this character, when withdrawn from circulation, is destroyed. First the issue, the denomination and the number and class are carefully noted in books kept for that purpose, and in the presence of officials named for this duty the notes are thrown into a macerating machine, and the whole cut into the smallest possible pieces. After they have been so thoroughly macerated as to preclude even the possibility of their being put together again, the residue is sold to a firm in Washington who press it under hydraulic pressure into odd-shaped little trinkets and charms which are sold to curiosity-seekers who delight in the possession of an article which may have represented thousands of dollars at some previous stage of its usefulness.

It is frequently the case that in some accident a parcel of bank bills is but partially destroyed. An end may be charred off in a fire or in a hundred ways a bill may be made unfit for circulation. Should three-fifths of the original bill be preserved this may be sent to the Treasurer and it will be redeemed without question, but when there is less than three-fifths, but clearly more than two-fifths of the original proportion remaining, they are redeemable by the United States Treasurer only at one-half the face value of the whole note.

Should there be a loss of more than two-fifths of the entire bill the Treasurer will redeem the same at face value if the fragments are accompanied by an affidavit of the owner or of other persons having knowledge that the missing portions have been totally destroyed. The Treasurer, of course, exercises his discretion in the redemption of mutilated currency so as to protect the Government against fraud, and one of his rulings in this regard is that all affidavits shall be sworn to before a notary public, the person whose signature appears on the instrument making oath that the statements are all true. Should the Treasurer decide that the evidence is not sufficient to protect the Government against fraud, he will refuse to redeem the fragments and will return the pieces to the owner. All sub-treasurers are authorized to redeem all notes which contain not less than three-fifths of the original bill. The consignee must pay the cost of transportation for the return of the sum allowed in the redemption of defaced or mutilated money of any character.

Silver money has an obvious advantage over gold coin, in that the former is redeemable no matter the amount of abrasion that may appear, while gold coin that has lost more than one per cent. through abrasion is considered mutilated and is receivable for only the actual value by weight. The gold coins coming into banks or to the sub-treasurers when found light in weight are stamped on both sides with the capital "L," denoting that the piece is deficient in value. With silver coin, although it may be worn perfectly smooth, if it shows no evidence of having been tampered with, it will be redeemed at face value. All minor coins made of the baser metals, five, three, two and one cent pieces, are redeemable if they are not so defaced as to be readily identified. These rulings are made by the Treasury Department, and not being a part of any act of Congress they may be changed at any time, when one Treasurer takes a different view of the matter from that of his predecessor.

A Diary Written in Blood.
The diary of the famous Baron Friedrich von der Trenck, cousin of the notorious Franz von der Trenck, which purports to be written in his own blood while a prisoner at Magdeburg, is now offered for sale at Leipzig. The diary, inscribed on two hundred pages of an interleaved Bible presented to Trenck in 1760 by the Princess Amalie, sister of Frederick the Great, includes, besides a number of poems and letters, various social, political and philosophical treatises, and a history of the prisoner's adventurous life, which ended in 1794 on the guillotine. He was condemned to death by Robespierre as a secret agent of foreign governments.

A Mighty Cheerful Man.
Uncle Billy Russell is, according to the Franklin (D. T.) Republican, a sufferer from a remarkable succession of poultry mishaps. In the first place forty-nine young turkeys formed a colony and emigrated to some distant barn-yard. Then twenty-seven other turkeys followed them, and while Mr. Russell was adding forty-nine and twenty-seven by candle light one evening, some milk killed, ninety chickens and thirty-nine turkeys. Fortunately, Uncle Billy Russell has a persistently cheerful disposition, and the Republican informs its readers that his genial countenance shows no signs of grief yet.

Had to Draw the Line.
If a good story is being told about town of an old gentleman who has lived for years at one of the Stamford hotels with his family. Several years ago his eldest daughter, who was married, died. After a suitable time the bereaved widower asked for the hand of the next daughter. Not long afterward he was left alone again, and again he sought for the hand of the third daughter of his old friend. At last, when he came for the fourth, the old man exclaimed: "Yes, take her; but hang it all, when she's gone what'll you do! You can't have the old woman, too!"

HUMBOLDT ITEMS.

A Fine Ore Body - East Railroad Time.

The Winnemucca Silver State of the 16th inst. says:

Nick Fryer, who returned from Spring City last evening, says the ore body in the Wild Goose is the largest ever found in the Paradise Valley Company's mines. It is twenty-five feet wide and averages over $40 to the ton. There are thousands of tons of ore in sight.

The special train carrying the Senate Pacific Railroad Committee made the trip from Carlin to Winnemucca—121 miles—yesterday in 2 hours and 50 minutes. Engineer Hebard and conductor Benson had orders to make fast time. They obeyed the order, and were coming at such a lively rate that the Senators became frightened, and, at their request, Senator Stanford, who is President of the Railroad Company, asked the train men to slow down. The train made four stops between Carlin and this place, and engineer Hebard says he can make the trip with froman McBride and engine 174 in 2 hours and 20 minutes.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge, Monday Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother, was also very low with Malaria Fever and jaundice, but was cured by the timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price, 50c. and $1 at Hodgkinson's.

It is truly a wonderful medicine." For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall and early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh and bronchitis or paves the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted lose no time but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

What F. G. Newlands Is Doing to Develop Our State.

F. G. Newlands is fully alive to the importance of bringing our arid lands and the waters of Tahoe, Donner, Independence and Webber together, and is proving himself a friend in need. He has agreed to act as agent for this community and put up all the money necessary for the successful storage of water and only charge 6 per cent. interest for the money so advanced and wait until subsequent legislation can be had to reimburse him. James Mayberry left this morning for Donner Lake to commence the construction of a dam that will raise the water twelve feet over the entire surface of the lake and dig down four feet at the outlet.

Mr. Newlands is now engaged in negotiating for the land at the source of the Truckee at Tahoe and stands ready to put up any reasonable amount of money for it. In conversation with a GAZETTE reporter the other day Mr. Newlands said that he had no doubt if Mr. Sharon had lived that he would have invested largely in this State, where the foundation for his vast estate was laid, and Mr. Newlands is showing his faith in the State's future by investing largely from the estate for which he is trustee, in an honest endeavor to solve the perplexing irrigation problem.

The people will owe Mr. Newlands a debt of gratitude that will be hard to pay when he completes all he has in contemplation. For years this people have been struggling along trying to induce capital to come here, but without any success whatever, until a fortunate circumstance threw Mr. Newlands among us. He was broad enough to see our possibilities and immediately set to work to get them into presentable shape. He is a very valuable citizen in any community, and is doing more real good for the State to-day than all the rich men on our list have ever done or ever will do.

MUSHROOM SEED.

How a Sacramento Grocery Drummer was Caught.

A practical joke, which proved more far-reaching than was intended, was recently played on a drummer for a Sacramento grocery house, who was taking orders from Folsom & Wells. After having taken down a long list of goods that were wanted as soon as they could be shipped, the solicitor was still anxious to increase the size of the order, for he seemed to understand that he was dealing with a first-class firm, and was desirous of swelling the order to the greatest possible dimensions. At this juncture Perry and Rice, two of Folsom & Wells' salesmen, happened to think that they were just out of "mushroom seed," of which article the commercial agent lost no time in jotting down a liberal quantity. When the order reached the wholesale house, no difficulty was experienced in filling it until the last item was reached, when they discovered that they were "just out" of that particular kind of "seed," and a letter received from the firm the next day informed their Reno customer that they had searched the city, but every dealer in town was entirely out of that article, and asking if they should order from San Francisco. Thinking the joke had been carried far enough, Mr. McLaughlin, Folsom & Wells' bookkeeper, wrote the Sacramento wholesalers that it was a practical joke which the boys had played on their solicitor, since which no further effort has been made to find that particular kind of vegetable seed. It is but just to the drummer to say that although an A. No. 1 hardware man, he has had but little experience in groceries, having but recently accepted his present position.

Quite a Smash-Up.

This morning as freight train No. 5, which arrived from Truckee about 5 o'clock, was picking up some cars and doing some switching in the Reno yard, a portion of the train which had been left standing up the track started out with no one to check it and struck that portion of the train to which the engine was attached, just above the Sierra street crossing, badly demolishing five cars, four of which were loaded with wood and lumber and the fifth with barley. The wrecking train from Wadsworth arrived at 8:30 and soon had the track clear of the crippled cars.

Without Question, the Best.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE AND STOCK-MAN, issued to-day, is the best weekly published (this side of the mountains). It contains as much information as any of the coast papers—every important event being chronicled. The Carson Fair is given much space in this number. Hon. Thomas Fitch gives his views on the irrigation question, a full telegraphic report is given and the local and coast news is complete. Besides editorial matter of interest to all will be found in to-day's issue.

The Washoe Improvement Association.

An important meeting of leading citizens was held last evening at the residence of R. L. Fulton to take steps for carrying out any plan offered for the improvement of the town or county. Hon. R. R. Bigelow was elected Chairman and Allen C. Bragg Secretary. The society is to be known as the Washoe Improvement Association and its labors devoted to the good of the town and county. It is a step in the right direction.

Shot in the Face.

Last evening Charley Leeper, the harness-maker, informed a GAZETTE reporter that he had just learned that his brother-in-law, T. Riley, living at Dayton, while hunting, had been accidentally shot in the face by a companion, inflicting very painful wounds. Mr. Leeper left this morning on a visit to his kinsman, who it is feared, is seriously injured.

Warm weather often causes extreme tired feeling and debility, and in the weakened condition of the system, diseases arising from impure blood are liable to appear. To gain strength, to overcome disease, and to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Fresno, Cal., is making a successful raid on the gamblers.

A recent freshet in the Skagit river, Wash., enabled loggers to drive down 30,000,000 feet of logs.

G. B. Taylor of Occidental, Sonoma county, Cal., a wealthy man and an old resident, killed himself last week.

Sheriff Sweeney of Eureka arrived this morning with Mrs. Kercher, who was committed to the Insane Asylum.

Sheriff Flint went to Carson to-day with O. D. Carr, sentenced to the State's bastille for five years for robbery.

The police of Spokane Falls have arrested H. B. Strong, Assistant Engineer of the Northern Pacific, for excavating the streets.

William Mayue, ex-Deputy County Clerk of San Diego, Cal., has been indicted for an attempt to murder Bertha Johnson, whose ruin he had accomplished.

Mary, wife of William Grue, committed suicide because they were unable to pay off a mortgage on their home at Elder Creek, Tehama county, Cal., and were forced to surrender it.

William Merkle, a German physician, late of Wisconsin, who established a private hospital at Port Townsend two months ago, is missing. He leaves debts aggregating nearly $4,000.

Tehama county, Cal., is beginning to realize the importance of irrigation. A meeting was held yesterday at Kirkwood to inaugurate a ditch company and another will be held at Corning Saturday.

The Citizens' Natural Gas Company was formed at Stockton last Tuesday night. It is to provide light and heat to members. Other associations, with the same object in view, are being organized.

Wonder if the Directors of the Ormsby District Fair have found out who moved the half-mile post yet? It is not possible that Kondo's owner knows anything about it. Nothing like keeping a quarter horse's record right so his backer will not kick.

FLIGHT OF INSECTS.

Bees Able to Beat the Swiftest Pigeon.

A contributor of the St. James Gazette supplies instances of the high speed attained by insects in their flight, many of them being able to outstrip swift birds. It has been computed that the common house fly in ordinary flight makes 600 strokes per second and advances 25 feet, but that rate of speed, if the insect be alarmed, may be increased six or sevenfold, so that under certain circumstances it can outstrip the fleetest racehorse. It is no uncommon thing to see a bee or wasp endeavoring to get in at the window of a railway train in full speed, and it is calculated that if a small insect can fly faster than a racehorse can run, an insect as large as a horse would be able to travel as fast as a cannon-ball.

Leunwenhok relates an exciting chase which he beheld in a menagerie, about 100 feet long, between a swallow and a dragon fly—among the swiftest of insects. The insect flew with incredible speed and wheeled with such address that the swallow, in spite of its utmost efforts, completely failed to overtake and capture it.

A pigeon-fancier named Hamme, in Westphalia, recently made a wager that a dozen bees liberated three miles from their hive would reach it in better time than a dozen pigeons would reach their cote from the same distance. The competitors were given wing, and the first bee reached home a quarter of a minute in advance of the first pigeon. Three other bees reached the goal before the second pigeon, the main body of both detachments finishing almost simultaneously an instant or two later. The bees, it may be mentioned, had been handicapped in the race, having been rolled in flour before starting for purposes of identification.

According to Chabrier, the male of the silkworm moth travels upward of 100 miles in one day, and there are many of our British moths, as entomologists well know, which can cover long distances in an incredibly short space of time.

PERSONAL.

Judge T. H. Wells was in town last evening.

Rev. Mr. Sisson of Mason Valley was in town this morning.

Go to Lange & Schmidt for ranges, parlor and cook stoves; best assortment in the State.

Samuel Bowman, the capitalist, and Harry Clawson, the railroad hotel inspector, arrived from below this morning.

A. M. Ward and family left this morning for Surprise Valley, expecting to be gone until about Christmas.

G. W. Baker and J. L. Wines, the Central Pacific attorneys, and C. C. Wallace, the police "manipulator," arrived from Eureka on this morning's express.

AN UGLY DISCOVERY.

A Report That Should Be Read.

"A recent analysis in Philadelphia by a celebrated chemist of ten popular brands of sarsaparilla discloses the astonishing fact that these ten samples of blood purifier (7) contained in the aggregate sixteen different minerals, eleven of which were acropoisons. (Iodide of potash was discovered in every sample, mercury was found in all but two, while arsenic existed in six of the ten brands. Not one brand was the pure article."

A reporter took the above clipping to E. W. Joy, the manufacturer of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mr. Joy exhibited no surprise. He said druggists knew it. He said "I thought I saw the crying need for a safe and absolutely pure vegetable preparation of Sarsaparilla, hence his was named Joy's vegetable sarsaparilla, because it contained nothing but pure syrup of sarsaparilla, combined with the pure juices of California's vegetable alternatives. Unlike potent sarsaparillas, it does not force impurities through the skin but safely eliminates the various secretory organs, thereby correcting functional derangements and eliminating all impurities through the natural channels."
